LEARN

Feed your hunger for knowledge by scheduling stopovers at the cultural sites spread across West Coast. Step into the past as you unravel Singapore's tumultuous war years, learn about local myths and legends, or simply appreciate the architecture of years gone by.

Reflections @ Bukit Chandu

Discover the stories of heroism about the 1,400 soldiers from the Malay Regiment who stood up against a 13,000-strong Japanese Army in the Battle of Pasir Panjang in World War II. The serenity makes it almost impossible to believe that one of the most garang battles in Singapore history took place in the area.

MUST SEE

War-depicting mural by the pond

LOCAL SLANG

Haw Par Villa

Get ready for a cultural fright night as you enter the Chinese gates of hell. Haw Par Villa was built in the 1930s featuring a thousand statues depicting Chinese mythology, folklore, legends and history. Do not miss the most famous attraction, the Ten Courts of Hell showing gruesome scenes that will make you exclaim “wah piang!”
